FULL HOUSE SEES AMERICAN LEGION'S HOME TALENT PLAY

Baby Gets Biggest Hand in Finale—Leading Characters Show Much Training—Music Is Enjoyed.

The Washington Opera House was filled to overflowing last night to witness the American Legion's home talent show "Katcha-Koo" which pleased as all home talent offerings please.

The leading parts were taken by local people of past experience in such entertainments and they each did their part well. It would be hard to single out the better ones in the cast as all did remarkably well and no little credit is due the young women of the chorus who added much to the success.

The two specialties by Miss Bona Fitzgerald and a string band and Miss Annabel Hall and dancing chorus deserve special notice. Miss Fitzgerald's voice always attracts and Miss Hall's ability in dancing brought down the house.

Taken in all the entertainment was up to par and was worth the money. The American Legion is to be congratulated upon its first night's success. There is every reason to believe that the second night will prove the greatest success for the members of the cast will be somewhat over their stage fright, which by the way, was not noticed among the principals last night.

Little Margaret Catherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dice of Sutton street, was by far the star of the grand finale. Dressed as Uncle Sam, the little star did not make her appearance until a few minutes before the curtain dropped by she received the applause of the audience and did not seem to mind it. The show was entertaining aside from the fact that the audience was personally interested in members of the east, and Miss Nancy Galloway, under whose instruction the play was "brought out" deserves much credit for the most satisfactory manner in which the entertainment was presented.

BOY SHOOTS SELF THROUGH SHOULDER, POLICE CONTEND

Lad Says He Was Shot From the Ohio Side of River But Powder Burns Tell Police Different Tale.

Allie Downs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Downs of West Third street, was shot through the left shoulder while on the river bank near the wharfboat about 6:30 o'clock last night. The lad is now seriously wounded.

At first young Downs contended that he was walking along the river bank when he heard the report of a gun from the Ohio side of the river; he then felt a stinging sensation in his left shoulder and realized that he was shot. Investigations by the police however, disclose that the shot was not fired from the Ohio side of the river for there are powder burns on the boy's coat showing that he was shot at close range.

Investigations by the police disclose that the lad had an old revolver and they have reached the conclusion that he went to the river bank to try out the weapon and in trying it accidentally shot himself. Downs stoutly denies this conclusion of the police saying he had no revolver with him at the time of the accident. The gun could not be found and the police think it was tossed into the river to escape prosecution for carrying a deadly weapon.

HAS PART IN LARGE HOME TALENT SHOW.

Houston, Texas newspaper just received by relatives tell of the very important part little Miss Helen Ray Newell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Newell, formerly of this city, had in a recent home talent entertainment in that city. Little Miss Newell was a Greek dancer and starred in a cast of one thousand.

GIRL TAKES LIFE AFTER MOTHER HAD REPROVED HER

Former Lewis County Girl Kills Herself at South Portsmouth When Mother Chided Her On Note.

Brooding over admonitions given by her mother late in the afternoon concerning a letter she had written to a boy, and over some money matters it is thought to have caused Julia Gladys Sparks, 13 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sparks of East Portsmouth, formerly of Crum, Lewis county, to take her life by sending a bullet from a .32 caliber revolver through her heart about 6 o'clock while the remainder of the family was at the evening meal. The parents and friends are at loss to account for any other motive and the letter the young girl left bears out the motive advanced.

The parents are grief stricken over the girl's rash act and today the mother was in a serious condition, a physician being in almost constant attendance at the bedside. She is unconscious at times, the state of coma being brought on by her hysterical condition of last night.

The young girl had no doubt thought over the suicide for several hours for she had carefully written the note before sending the bullet through her heart. The note was taken by neighbors shortly after the shooting. In it the young girl explained where she had obtained some change she had in her possession and which her mother had questioned her about.

She also told her complete plans for taking her life and how she went into Mr. Burton's bedroom and got his gun. She bade "good-bye" to her father and mother and Mr. Burton.

KEHOE DECLINED TO HEAD CUT-OUT ORGANIZATION

Local Banker Says Duties Are Such That He Would Be Unable to Give Organization Time It Deserves.

Hon. James N. Kehoe, president of the Bank of Maysville, has declined the presidency of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cutout Organization to which he was elected last week, according to an interview given today. Mr. Kehoe gives as his reason for declining the office to which he was elected, duties that would not permit him giving the organization the attention it deserves.

In this regard Mr. Kehoe said: "While I appreciate the kind compliment of the gentlemen having charge of that organization, in electing me its president, and while I have been and still am ready to do anything within my power to aid the growers of tobacco, yet, my other business obligations are such as to make it impossible for me to accept the presidency of the association.

The election of officers and the adoption of a resolution providing that active steps be taken to push the movement during the coming year to secure an outlet to tidewater for the product of the Hazard district were the outstanding features of the afternoon session of the Hazard Coal Operators' Association at Lexington Tuesday between 75 and 100 prominent coal operators from Kentucky, Ohio, Tennessee and Illinois were in attendance.

A. L. Allais, of Chicago, was elected president of the association to succeed E. L. Douglas, of Cincinnati. As a token of appreciation of his services for the last two years as executive head of the association, retiring President Douglas was presented with a handsome gold watch.

Other officers of the association elected were John G. Smythe, Jenkins, Ky., vice president; H. E. Bullock, Lexington, treasurer, and H. A. Hord, Lexington, secretary, the last two having been reelected. Members of the executive committee chosen are J. T. Harfield, Cincinnati; E. L. Douglas, Cincinnati; J. E. Johnson, Lexington; J. Henry Hall, Lexington; L. R. Jenkins, Johnson City, Tenn.

The matter of an outlet for Kentucky coal and particularly the product of the Hazard district, to the Atlantic seaboard, for shipment to New England markets and abroad has been agitated for years by the operators, but progress in this direction was delayed by the war. During the coming year, however, an energetic effort will be made to have the L. N. officials agree to extend the Eastern Kentucky division from its present terminus at Jenkins through the mountains to where it will connect with the trunk line running to the Atlantic seaboard, over which coal from the Hazard district could be shipped to Charlestown and other Atlantic ports.

MRS. McCARTNEY DIES IN PARIS.

Mrs. Artelia Saunders McCartney, widow of the late Chas. Dent McCartney, died Tuesday night at her home in Paris, from a complication of troubles. Her remains were taken to Flemingsburg from Paris Thursday morning and the funeral took place from the residence of Mrs. Mary D. McCartney, and burial was in the Flemingsburg cemetery. Deceased was about 52 years of age and is survived by one daughter, Miss Nancy Dent McCartney, with whom she lived, and by several brothers and sisters.

FINAL CLEARANCE SALE

THIS EXTRAORDINARY EVENT BEGINS
SATURDAY, JANUARY 29th

RED LETTER DAY — DOUBLE STAMPS

SATURDAY AND RED LETTER DAY. This selling with its lowered prices could hardly come at a more opportune time. It will only last until present Winter Goods in our stocks have been disposed of. That should not take very long for we've marked down the prices in every case so substantially that buying now is in easy reach of every one. These reductions are drastic and means considerable sacrifices to us. We are satisfied, however, for it has always been our policy to terminate seasons of active selling in manner calculated to bring the most good to our patrons and which will reflect creditably on the value-giving policy of this store.

EVERY SALE MUST BE FINAL. NO APPROVALS, EXCHANGES OR CHARGES. READ EVERY ITEM CAREFULLY.

The lots of many goods advertised are small, so an early response to this advertisement will be advantageous.

READY TO WEAR FINAL CLEARANCE

To make sure there won't be a single COAT, SUIT, DRESS, SKIRT OR FUR ON HAND after this huge clearance selling is over we have repriced every offering at a reduction unbelievably low. The fact that size ranges are incomplete need not be disturbing for practically all sizes in one style or another will be here when the sale commences. This is absolutely the LAST REDUCTIONS and there are SOME GREAT BARGAINS here for the early comers.

MIGRATORY BIRD PROTECTION NETS
BIG FOOD VALUES
Large Sum Is Saved by the Protection
Migratory Birds, the United States Department Shows.

Washington, D. C. — The passage of the migratory-bird treaty act, it is estimated, has resulted in a total return, in actual food value to the hunters of the United States, of more than $20,000,000. State officials have notified the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture that in Minnesota alone hunters report 2,058,400 ducks killed in 1919. As each of these birds may be considered to have a food value of at least 75 cents, the total return from them in food to this one state was about $1,500,000. If it had been possible to sell these birds, they would have brought twice that amount. The great value of game to the country is thus made evident.

That the passage and enforcement of the law preventing spring shooting and marketing of migratory game birds is now producing excellent results is pointed out by officials of the Biological Survey. Without such restrictions they say the game birds not only would be greatly reduced in numbers but in many instances would be brought near extinction. The Biological Survey, which is charged with the enforcement of the Federal law and regulations protecting migratory birds, is receiving reports from all sections of the country showing that with the protection now enjoyed by the birds, their numbers are increasing each year, and that they are returning in spring to numerous breeding grounds which they have deserted for several years.

In addition to the food value of the game thus insured by continued protection, the restrictions on shooting made by the law tend to perpetuate hunting as a sport. This has a recreational value through outdoor pursuit in building up the physical health and strength of the more than 7,000,000 hunters in the United States who go out with the guns every fall.

Sunday, January 30th, at 2:30 O'clock P. M.

New York.—Suggestion has been made that in enlarging the New York police force in an effort to quell the present flock of hold-ups and burglaries, Commissioner Enright choose his new members from the "weaker sex." That half of society seems to be more of a success at the job, even as amateurs, just now than do the masculine minions of the law. One New York woman recently captured a burglar in her apartment with a silver spoon; just crept up behind him and held it against the back of his neck. Her revolver-trained imagination did the rest. And her girl tripped the burglar and then sat on him until the police arrived. And now Miss Edith Ward, the latest remaining thief catcher, surprised a burglar in her bedroom, promptly collared him and held him against the wall until a former army lieutenant came to the rescue. "Why, that was nothing at all," she said, simply. "Any girl would have done as much."

Gilda Varese is said by her friends to be happy this season in "Enter Madame," than she has ever been in any part she has played before. There is a simple reason for it, but not one you would hardly expect from this woman.

man who has done such remarkable work in tragedy parts in the past, such as her blind girl in "The Jest" last year. It's clothes. "This is the first part Gilda has ever played in her life," one of her close friends said the other day, "where she could wear modish frocks. And she is as happy as a child about those lovely things that she could go into good shops and buy—not have made out or ring and tings." As she is one of the authors of the play, she probably wrote it with the idea of giving herself one real treat before going back to impoverished—seeming tragic roles.

It became almost more than American costumers could bear—the thought that their patrons must be one or even two weeks behind Paris and the Riviera in the adoption of a new sleeve curve or another inch off the skirt. So now, there has been perfected a code book, containing 220 illustrations; pictures of cuffs, shoulder seams, collars, sashes, every possible incident in a woman's costume. Every picture is numbered. Behold! A model from the smartest Parisian dressmaker appears on the Rue de la Paix. Instantly every detail of her dress, hat, coat, parasol, and powder box is copied to New York, by number corresponding to the pictures in the code book, the next morning's papers can carry it all. And even before they are read, the window dressers, acting on cables from the shops' Parisian representatives, will have all ready for you to gaze at.

Residents of Long Branch believed they were just about to be attacked in force by bandits one day this week. They saw two men who used MOST suspiciously. They avoided sidewalk and moved swiftly along, in a stooping position from one clump of shrubbery to another, sometimes venturing close to residents before their presence was discovered. The police were notified and took strenuous measures at once. A cordon was thrown about the whole neighborhood, and after watching for a short time, the signal was given and the police rushed the two men, overpowered them and carried them off in the patrol wagon. There, when the prisoners had gained their breath back, they explained that they were scouts of the State Forestry Department hunting for cocoons of the gypsy moth.

The head of a settlement house in lower Manhattan never loses her interest in the boys and girls who have been club members there. The other day she met one of them on the street. "Have you still got a chauffeur's job, Dan?" she asked. "No, ma'am," he replied. "I'm in business in Jersey." "Business is rather bad just now, isn't it?"

MANY LIKE THIS IN MAYSVILLE Similar Cases Being Published In Each Issue.

The following case is but one of many occurring daily in Maysville. It is an easy matter to verify it. You cannot ask for better proof.

Joe T. Brumel, retired bookkeeper, 108 West Front street, Maysville, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been of great advantage to me and I contribute fourteen years of my life to them. It was some years ago that I found I had kidney trouble and suffered severely with it. After a long course of Doan's Kidney Pills I became well and had no trouble for many years. Just recently I noticed my kidneys were again out of order and my system was generally weak. I knew it was a return of the trouble. I did not lose my time in getting a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they have given me the same good results and I consider them a wonderful remedy." (Statement given November 15, 1916.)

November 22, 1920, Mr. Brumel said: "I couldn't recommend a better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills for the benefit they were to me when I was about down and out with the worst form of kidney trouble. I gave a statement many years ago regarding the merit of this wonderful remedy. My cure has been a lasting one."

Price 60 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Brumel had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mrs. Buffalo, N. Y.

it?" asked the social worker. "Business is bad," said Dinn, smiling, "But, believe me, it's better than working."

Senator Medill McCormick landed in New York the other day after having spent nine weeks in Europe, where he talked associations of nations, disarmament, indemnities, foreign exchange, and several other fairly important world subjects with some pretty important people of various nations. He had disclaimed any such intentions, but the reports of his interviews over there had leaked out. So the New York reporters flocked to the pier. The Senator from Illinois responded as cordially as could be to the torrent of questions, then he said: "My boy, home is a wonderful place. Has any one any tobacco?" And no other word was got from him.

A goose race down Madison Avenue opened the poultry show at Madison Square Garden. The geese had two blocks kept free of traffic for them and a bunch of pretty show girls to drive them, and they squawked gaily in appreciation of both.

Please, your honor, send me back to Sing Sing. I plead guilty, and don't like to go." Such was the plea of Benjamin Koch, arrested for burglary. "I was there for four years," he explained, "and I got used to it. I don't have to dodge automobiles up there and I see good movies at night." Magistrate Sweetser thought he could accommodate him. In fact he did.

BROTHERS-IN-LAW FIGHT
BATTLE WITH REVOLVERS.
Shelbyville.—Following a family quarrel, Bruce Smallwood and Lafayette Masters, brothers-in-law, fought with pistols. Smallwood was wounded, but not seriously.

The railroads drew $100,000,000 in 1920 from the automobile industry in payment for shipment of finished motor vehicles.

ARE YOU CONGENIAL?

Thin-Blooded, Sick-Looking Men and Women Lack Enthusiasm

THEY NEED PEPTO-MANGAN

Red-Blooded, Healthy-Looking Folks
Get Along Well Because They Feel Good.

There is a thrill in glowing good health. You see it in the enthusiasm and good cheer of congenial people. Fatigue, bad color, dull eyes and listless feeling do not attract other people. You are not congenial when you are run down.

Nearly everybody gets out of sorts occasionally. They are positively unhappy for weeks and constantly tired and gloomy. Perhaps you are that way and can see no reason why. But there is a reason. More than likely it is because of bad blood. Temporarily your blood needs help. Pepto-Mangan is a well-known and very successful remedy for poor blood. It supplies what your blood needs. You pick up and become your old self again; your blood works as it should, keeping you fresh and alert, congenial and happy and strong.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. Both contain the same medicinal ingredients. One is as effective as the other.

Buy Pepto-Mangan at your druggist's. Be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. Without the name "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan.
